DETAILED ACTION

- This office action is responsive to communication filed on February 1, 2008.

Docketing

1. Please note that the application has been re-docketed to different examiner. Please refer all future communications regarding this application to the examiner of record using the information supplied in the final section of the office action.

Election/Restrictions

2. This application contains claims (Filed on 02/01/2008) directed to the following patentably distinct species:

- Species 1 is drawn to confirming ownership of an address by a first device to a second device using zero-knowledge technique, as discloses by Fig. 1 and recited on page 9 as being the first embodiment of the invention and defined by claims 66-80.
- Species 2 is drawn to confirming ownership of an address by a first device to a second device using zero-knowledge technique in situation where mobile node does not use home agent and moves between different subnets, as disclosed by Fig. 2 and recited on page 18 as being the second embodiment of the invention and defined by claims 81-89.
- Species 3 is drawn to confirming ownership of address by a first device to a second device according to first embodiment but using one-time password instead of zero-knowledge technique used in first embodiment, as recited on page 24 as an alternative method to the zero-knowledge technique used in first embodiment and defined by claims 29-47.

- Species 4 is drawn to confirming ownership of address by a first device to a second device according to second embodiment but using one-time password instead of zero-knowledge technique used in the second embodiment, as recited on page 24 as an alternative method to the zero-knowledge technique used in the second embodiment and defined by claims 48-65.

3. The species are distinct because they are directed to related invention. That is, each species listed above are related by disclosure as being used to confirming ownership of address by a first device to a second device. However, these species recite mutually exclusive characteristics of such species. In the instant cast, the species as claimed by claims mentioned above are not capable of use together, they have a materially different design and mode of operation, and they also do not overlap in scope, i.e., are mutually exclusive. In addition, these species are not obvious variants of each other based on the current record.

Applicant is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect a single disclosed species for prosecution on the merits to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. Currently, there are no generic claims.

There is an examination and search burden for these patentably distinct species due to their mutually exclusive characteristics. The species require a different field of search (e.g., searching different classes/subclasses or electronic resources, or employing different search queries); and/or the prior art applicable to one species would not likely be applicable to another species; and/or the species are likely to raise different non-prior art issues under 35 U.S.C. 101 and/or 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a species to be examined even though the requirement may be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected species, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered nonresponsive unless accompanied by an election.

The election of the species may be made with or without traverse. To preserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the election of species requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse. Traversal must be presented at the time of election in order to be considered timely. Failure to timely traverse the requirement will result in the loss of right to petition under 37 CFR 1.144. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which of these claims are readable on the elected species.

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the species unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) of the other species.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which depend from or otherwise require all the limitations of an allowable generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141.

4. Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).
